

LONGSHORE CONFESSES MURDER OF STAUCH AT BUCKEYE LAKE AND DEEP MYSTERY IS CLEARED

Unable to Face Death Until He Tells of Crime Committed Over Two Years Ago

Deathbed Confession Repeated to Family of Murdered Man—Father Died of Grief—Fight Occurred in Boat—Drowning Reported and Body Recovered Several Days Later.

The mystery surrounding the death of Edward J. Stauch at Buckeye Lake on May 7, 1905, has just been cleared. Stauch was not accidentally drowned. He was murdered by Lewis Longshore, who in a deathbed confession at Columbus gave the details of the secret which for more than two years gnawed at his very soul.

On May 6, 1905, W. A. Priest of South Second street, Newark, was drowned at Buckeye Lake. Mr. Priest fell from a boat and died before help could reach him. On the following night Edward Stauch, who worked at the cash register factory, in Columbus, was drowned there.

The Advocate of that date said that Stauch, with two other men, was in a boat between Beech Island and Bader's early Sunday morning, when in some way their boat was overturned. Two colored men heard their screams and hurried to the scene and succeeded in rescuing two of the trio, but Stauch sank out of sight.

The death was investigated and the conclusion reached that Stauch had been accidentally drowned.

Calling his mother and wife to his bedside, corner of Main and Fourth streets, Columbus, Monday, Lewis Longshore, aged 27, made a confession that he was responsible for Stauch's death. For two years the man's waking hours were filled with the awful realization that he had sent a fellowman to his death, and for two years his sleep had been filled with dreams that accused him of the crime of Cain. As death approached Longshore was unwilling to go before his Maker with an unconfessed murder on his soul, so calling his family to him he recited the following story:

"You remember the May day two years ago when I went to Buckeye Lake to fish. Well, among the party was Edward Stauch. We left the city late at night and as soon as we reached the lake we started to fish. I got into the boat with Edward and we began an argument as to which of us should use the oars. The altercation grew into a fight. In the end I secured one of the oars and hit Edward over the head with it.

He fell into the bottom of the boat after I had struck him and when he did not rise I became frightened. I spoke to him several times, but he did not reply. I looked at him and then found that he was still. I thought him dead. I didn't know what to do. I was alone on the lake with him. The rest of our party was ashore. I knew that if they came to us, as they would if I called for help, I would be accused of killing him.

"What could I do? I didn't know. The lake was black beneath us and I thought that if I raised his body and threw it into the water everyone would take it for granted that Edward fell into the lake and was drowned.

"Mother—dear—come closer. I did throw Edward into the lake. I was the man who killed him."

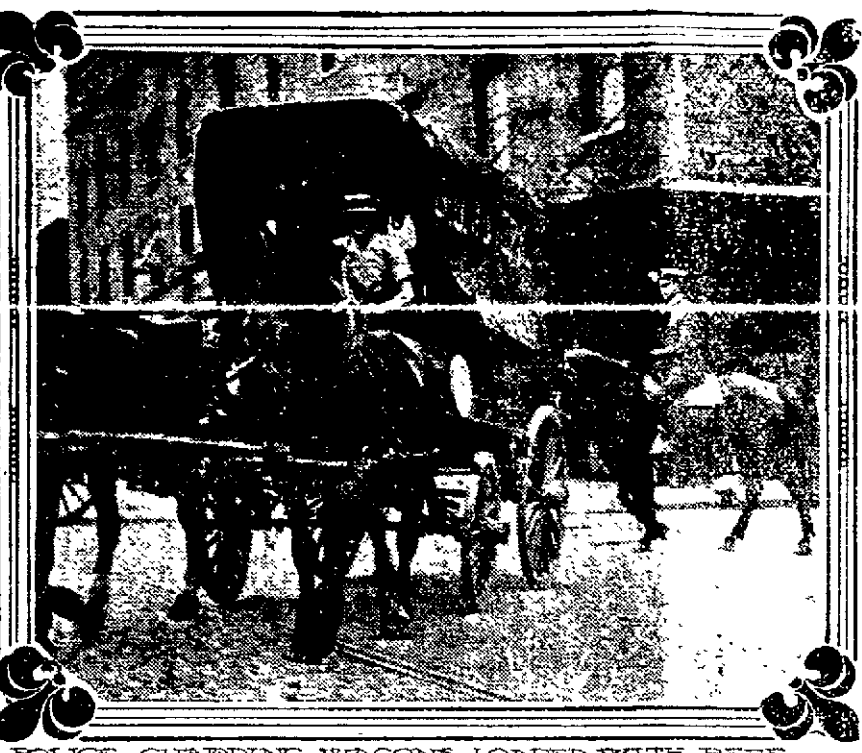

And then Lewis Longshore himself crossed the dark river.

The confession fell upon the stunned ears of the wife and mother. Lewis, the son and husband, was far beyond the reach of man's law. But some reparation was necessary to the mother of the murdered boy.

"What can be done?" wailed the wife. "I cannot go through life with the knowledge imparted to me by Lewis continually harrowing my soul. I must tell the mother of the man my husband killed that her son's death did not come by chance."

So, little Mrs. Longshore visited the Stauch home Monday. The house is at 623 Lazelle street. Mrs. Longshore had her misgivings, but she had a strong belief in the sacredness of her mission. She could not live if she was to carry all through her life

STRIKE FORCING U P BEEF PRICES.

POLICE GUARDING WAGONS LOADED WITH BEEF

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The strike of the drivers and stablemen employed by the Beef Trust has already resulted in a sharp advance in the price of meat in certain sections of the city, and the advance will follow everywhere unless the trouble is soon relieved. As a result a very large proportion of east siders refuse to buy and will get along without meat until the strike ends and the prices are reduced.

DRIVERS STRIKE

Each Meat Wagon Sent Out in New York is Accompanied by Two Policemen.

New York, Aug. 27.—There was little disturbance caused by the strike of meat wagon drivers. The packers started regular deliveries and stated that all deliveries had been made as usual. Each wagon that went out was accompanied by a policeman and private detective.

STEAMER SINKS

Pacific Mail Boat Turns Turtle, But All Passengers and Crew Escape.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27.—The Pacific Mail steamship company's steamer Acapulco, Captain C. D. Prask, turned turtle and sank at the passengers' docks in this city. All the passengers and crew escaped, but the cargo consisting of general merchandise will be almost a total loss, as the hull of the vessel lies in about 15 feet of water. The vessel was scheduled to sail for Panama and way ports and was taking on her last supply of coal when the accident occurred. It is supposed to have been caused by the listing of the vessel as the coal was being loaded on one side. She went down slowly and all those on board had time to clamber on the dock. The Acapulco is an ocean steamer 290 feet long, 40 feet wide, 20 feet deep with gross tonnage of 2,522.

STREETCAR EMPLOYEES VOTE FOR STRIKE

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 27.—After having had one strike only six months ago, the members of the local union of streetcar employees voted unanimously to go on strike again, leaving the time for calling the strike in the hands of the executive committee. The local union comprises about 80 per cent of the employees of the Louisville Railway company. The ground for the action, as alleged by the men, lies in persistent discrimination by the company in favor of nonunion men.

POWERS ASKS SPEEDY TRIAL

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 27.—In order to secure a speedy trial for Caleb Powers, a new proposition has been made to Commonwealth Attorney Franklin by Attorney W. C. Owens, one of Powers' counsel. While here last night, Owens said he proposed to let Franklin pick three representative Democrats not actively engaged in politics to select a judge to try Powers and he would abide by their decision.

"There is not the slightest chance to get former Governor W. S. Taylor to come to Kentucky to testify in the Powers case, for if he came he could not give any other testimony than that in his deposition. What we want is a trial," said Owens.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND TODAY IN THE LAKE

Lake Hopatcong, N. J., Aug. 27.—The body of Miss Agnes Maguire, the Brooklyn school teacher, who disappeared mysteriously Saturday night, was found today in Lake Hopatcong. It was brought up in shallow water near the shore not far from the spot where the girl left her cousin's carriage, where she was left waiting while Charles Maguire went into the college at Camp "Look Who's Here."

The body bore no bruises or other marks of violence and only one theory is now advanced to explain her death—that she became frightened at the storm which was raging, alighted from the carriage to follow her cousin and stumbled in the water. Chief of Police Christie of Lake Hopatcong brought the girl's body to the surface. He had been dragging the lake with grappling irons during a good part of the night and at 10 o'clock today was rewarded for his efforts. Finding the body in its present condition has dispelled the various theories that Miss Maguire was the victim of kidnappers and had been carried into the forest, or was wandering half demented about the woods.

DR. REELHORN'S HEARING BEFORE SQUIRE A. MILLER

YOUNG KIRKERSVILLE DENTIST IS CONFRONTED BY SERIOUS CHARGE.

BIG CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

Today's Action Will Determine Whether Reelhorn-Gunder Case Goes to Grand Jury.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Ohio against young Dr. S. Ray Reelhorn of Kinkersville, charged with the murder of Miss Minnie Gunder, a well known young woman of the village, in December of last year, is being held before Squire Abram Miller of Harrison township this afternoon.

The case is being prosecuted by Attorneys Saville and Smythe, while the defense is represented by Attorney J. D. Jones, of the firm of Jones & Jones, and Attorney Edward Kibler, of the firm of Kibler & Montgomery. So great is the interest in the case that the justice's office was filled to overflowing long before the time set for the hearing and many were unable to gain admittance.

The matter comes up this afternoon to determine whether or not the case shall go to the grand jury. The attorneys from this city were accompanied to Kinkersville by Official Court Stenographer H. C. Wood of Mt. Vernon, and an Advocate reporter. The hearing takes place at "Squire Miller's country home, several miles west of Kinkersville, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The case is peculiar, owing to the finding of the doctors who conducted the autopsy. The doctors reported the girl's condition normal. Miss Gunder refused to make a dying statement implicating anybody, but Dr. Reelhorn testified that he had given the girl oil of tansy at her own request. Miss Gunder's mother afterwards committed suicide.

3 SUSPECTS NOW HELD BY POLICE

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Three suspects have been caught in the chase for the murderer of Elkh Schrader. Two were trailed to a spot near Indiana Harbor, Ind., by bloodhounds and found in trees by the posse. They were hustled into jail. A third suspect was captured today in a ravine near Gary, where it is believed he had been hiding through the night. One of the men arrested at Indiana Harbor gave the name of Henry Smith. Elkh Schrader was the child of 9, who was brutally attacked and murdered by a Higgins, son of the late Governor Higgins, narrowly escaped death when their automobile crashed into a trolley car. All were hurled many feet away, and the motor car was pretty thoroughly wrecked.

BOILER LETS GO KILLING 3 MEN

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 27.—Three men are dead and a fourth is dying as the result of a boiler explosion at a lumber camp in a tract of timber on the Hagerstown farm, about eight miles north of Hagerstown. The dead: George W. Beard, Middleburg, Pa.; Samuel L. Smith, Hagerstown, Pa.; and Stevens, Smithsburg, Md. It is thought the explosion was the result of low water in the boiler. Beard, who was the foreman in charge of the sawmill, was near the engine at the time, and his body was hurled 400 feet. One of his legs was found 200 feet farther away.

NELSON MORRIS CHICAGO PACKER DIED TODAY

AGED MILLIONAIRE HAS BEEN SUFFERING LONG WITH HEART TROUBLE.

HE LEAVES A VAST FORTUNE

One of the Old Guard to Whose Efforts Chicago Owes Her Supremacy.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Nelson Morris, the millionaire packer, died at his home this morning after a lingering illness of heart disease. He expired in the old family home in Indiana avenue, where he had lived ever since he became a business man in Chicago. He had a superstitious dread of changing his residence and while his associates in business erected palaces and moved to suburbs, Mr. Morris remained in the old frame house.

Mr. Morris died at 7:40 this morning. After dinner hour last night the old gentleman called his family about him, bade them farewell, gave some final instructions and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Nelson Morris was one of the remaining members of the old guard to whose efforts Chicago owes her supremacy in the packing industry.

Identified with the union stock yards when that world-famed enterprise was in its infancy, Nelson Morris has been unsparing in his efforts to advance the interests of that branch of the commercial life of the city ever since.

Nelson Morris was born in Germany, January 21, 1859. His parents were not wealthy and he was compelled to depend upon his own efforts for an education. When 12 years old his parents emigrated to America, bringing the youngster with them. The younger Morris reached Chicago in 1874, securing employment in the stock yards. In two years he started in business for himself. He prospered and in 1883 married Sarah Vogel. He leaves four children, Edward, Ira Nelson, Mrs. M. L. Rothschild and Mrs. Henry C. Schwab.

Nelson Morris left a fortune, estimated at $25,000,000. His representatives have made no statement as to the disposition of the fortune but a personal friend of the deceased says he has reason for the assumption that the widow will receive her dower interest of one-third, and that the remaining two-thirds, minus bequests to charity and to faithful employees in his business and home, will be divided among the four children.

C. & O. MORTGAGE FOR TEN MILLIONS

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 27.—A mortgage was filed here in the county clerk's office by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company to the New York Trust company and William H. White, Jr., of Richmond, Va., for $10,000,000, covering all franchises, rights, privileges, lands and terminals of the entire railway line. The mortgage will be filed in every county in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia, through which states the line runs.

GAYNOR WILL PAY

Macon, Ga., Aug. 27.—The United States circuit court of appeals has ordered Colonel John P. Gaynor, under sentence for the Savannah harbor frauds and in jail here, pending appeal, to be allowed to visit Indian Springs for the benefit of his health, which is failing under confinement. Colonel Gaynor will be accompanied by two deputy sheriffs and will bear the expenses of the trip.

By a collision between an electric car and a wagon near Chicago, the motorman on the car and the driver of the wagon, John Morris, were killed.

TAFT IS TERMED A STRADDLER BY WM. J. BRYAN

NEBRASKAN REPLIES TO SPEECH DELIVERED IN COLUMBUS BY SECRETARY.

HE SEES MUCH TO CONDEMN

Criticizes War Secretary for Not Taking Advanced Ground—Speech Held a Compromise.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 27.—The speech of War Secretary Taft, delivered at Columbus last week, has elicited a reply from Hon. William J. Bryan, who condemns the secretary as a "straddler" on nearly all the important questions of the day. Says Mr. Bryan:

"Secretary Taft's speech will prove a disappointment to those who expected a clear bugle note in favor of reform. There is not a single question on which he takes a strong, advanced position. On the railroad question, he is in favor of preventing watered stock, opposes the consolidation of competing lines and the duplication of directorates. So far so good; but he does not advocate the ascertaining of the value of the roads or the reduction of rates. He even defends the president from the charge of favoring the reductions made by the states. The railroads may object to his rhetorical demolition of abuses, but they will hardly be scared by his remedies.

"In submitting an argument in support of an inheritance tax and a graduated income tax, he concludes by saying that he is not in favor of adopting either of them now. At some future time he may adopt them if they are of government by injunction, but does not take any position on arbitration and election of senators by the people. He takes a rap at Socialism, denounces the initiative and referendum, and presents an argument against government ownership of railroads. He is stronger in stating what he opposes than in stating what he favors, and he is unintentionally, of course, states Mr. Bryan's position on several questions.

"On the trust question, he thunders at unlawful trusts, but not only does not recommend new legislation, but takes the position that a monopoly may not be harmful. He seems to lean toward the idea that it must be convicted of some harmful act—and this throws the burden of proof upon the government. He recognizes that 'restraint' is more difficult when one corporation swallows up a lot of other corporations; that it involves enormous labor on the part of the government to prosecute such a combination because the proof of the gist of the offense lies underneath an almost limitless variety of transactions, and yet he is opposed to the license system, which would enable the government to absolutely prevent a monopoly. In other words, he gives the benefit of the doubt to the corporations instead of to the people. He thinks that putting one or two trust magnates in the penitentiary would have a healthy effect, but he uses so many qualifying words that one is left in doubt as to what he really favors.

"He makes out a strong case in favor of tariff reform, but when he gets to the remedy he goes no further than the Republican leaders have gone in former campaigns. He wants enough tariff to cover the difference in cost of labor here and abroad—the excuse given for the present tariff—and he wants the tariff 'reformed by its friends.' Tariff reform by the friends of the tariff is a farce and a fraud, and the secretary runs away from the conclusions which would naturally be drawn from the statistics which he presents. Conservatives may object to his speech because it admits many Democratic contentions, but no real reformers will find encouragement in it. It is a straddle of the most important issues—a compromise instead of fight for reform."

BOOMING MR. TAFT

Washington, Aug. 27.—Arrangements are being made to give Secretary Taft when he reaches Oregon and Washington, the greatest send off a departing American statesman ever had. Special trains will be run from all over the two states to points where the Secretary is scheduled to stop.

OLDEST CITY'S FIRST FAIR.

Everything From Prize Pigs to Persimmons Competing.

St. Augustine, Fla., the oldest city in the United States, is to hold her first county fair in November. An excellent committee is in direct charge and is devoting much time to the work.

The people generally are taking an intense interest in the approaching fair, and a splendid exhibition of St. Johns county products will be displayed. Hastings, with its diversified farming, will alone make an exhibit that will be a revelation to every one. Blooded stock is raised in various parts of the county, and the owners are already grooming them for the display. The north end of the county will send sheep, the middle section cattle and all sections poultry and thoroughbred hogs. Vegetables and grain of almost every variety will form an interesting feature of the exhibits, says the Florida East Coast Homeseeker. Oranges, peaches, figs, grape fruit, pears, guavas, plums, persimmons and dozens of other varieties of fruits will swell the array of exhibits. It is impossible to enumerate the various fruits and vegetables that flourish on the farms of this fertile county, and it is safe to predict that the display will surpass even those familiar with the resources of the county.

Cigars manufactured in St. Augustine will contribute largely to the industrial exhibit. While the ancient city is not widely known as a cigar center, it has a number of factories whose products are not excelled by the choicest imported goods.

The forests will also be called upon to add to the success of the fair. Furniture made from the hard woods will show the wealth that abounds in the wilderness.

Prizes will be awarded, as is customary in other places on like occasions, and there will be a keen rivalry for the same at this first county fair ever attempted in St. Johns county, and it will undoubtedly be rich in results, by stimulating the agriculture, live stock raising and manufacturing within its borders.

MILLIONS IN A RAZOR.

Possession of Ancient Implement May

Mean Right to Rich Estate.
W. J. Anderson, who arrived at New York recently from Colon, Panama, and Kingston, Jamaica, told a story of an estate worth several millions which he may inherit through the possession of a razor, says the New York Herald.

Mr. Anderson comes from Columbus, O., and is of Scottish descent. The story of a mysterious estate in Ireland has been handed down in the family for several generations, but trace of it was lost years ago. With the story has been identified the razor, which has been handed down in the Anderson family from father to son for about 200 years. The final purpose, according to the tradition, is to have the razor identify its owner as the heir to the estate.

Several months ago Mr. Anderson saw an advertisement in a New York newspaper for heirs to an Anderson estate that is on the records of the English chancery court. He believes he is the sole heir to this property.

Mr. Anderson said he had been at work on the Panama canal construction as an engineer since March and had returned to take up the quest of the estate.

Will Kansas Swedes Hearken to Oscar?
We cannot refrain from smiling when we think of the Swedes up along the Republican river between Concordia, Kan., and Republic City reading King Oscar's invitation, request or command to Swedes in this country to come home to their native land to help build it up, comments the Concordia Kansan. We can see some of them reading Oscar's talk while sitting on the front porch of a three story modern dwelling, steam heat, hot and cold water arrangements, with private gas for lighting purposes, icehouse in the rear, peach and apple trees for lawn decorations and a herd of Poland-Chinas or Durocs for barnyard embellishments, with a sea of corn and alfalfa for landscape—oh, yes, we can imagine them selling their automobiles, ripping up their rural mail boxes, tearing the phone down off the wall, throwing the cat out of doors, shooting the dog and taking the next train for Sweden in response to the invitation of King Oscar. Why, if Oscar had one of those fine farms in Norway or Beaver township he wouldn't go back to Sweden either.

The Launch of the Leaves.
The yellow leaves go sailing down the stream
While whispering waters run to seek the sea,
Where slender alders and pale aspens gleam
And every wychem seems a golden tree.
Amber and brown and red the light leaves float.
You cannot see the Pixy at the prow,
But each gay galleon is a fairy's boat—
The good folk through the craft from pop to bow.

You cannot hear the laughter and the song,
Though to sweet reedy pipes they laugh and sing.
You'd say, "So late the robin sings and long
This autumn twilight has a sound of spring."

The hunter's moon is rising, broad and bright,
A bronze lamp in the ashen colored sky.
To light their shadows down the stream tonight,
Far through the woods I hear the white owls cry.

From the low bridge I watch them on their way,
Fleeing the sunless, starveling days to be.
How would my heart rejoice if, even as they
I too, might follow summer overseas.

FIVE FIREMEN

Overcome by Poisonous Smoke Are in

New York Hospital in a Serious Condition.
New York, Aug. 27.—Five firemen are in the hospital in a serious condition as the result of inhaling poisonous smoke at a fire in Hagan & Company's warehouse on Washington street. Quantities of aniline salts, used for making dyes, were stored in the building, and burned fiercely, throwing off great volumes of smoke. Time and again the firemen who were on the roof of the building fighting the fire were forced to withdraw, and a number were overcome. The fire was extinguished after an hour's fight and all of the firemen apparently recovered from the smoke. Later, however, the poison began to tell, and one by one the five men were removed to the hospital.

LAWSON EMERSON

IS NOW IN JAIL

AT ST. CLAIRSVILLE

Former Supreme Court Clerk Unable

to Furnish Bond In Sum of Thousand Dollars.

Lawson Emerson, former clerk of the supreme court of Ohio, is in jail

at St. Clairsville, where he is held under a bond of $1,000, which so far

he is unable to give.

Emerson's troubles have shifted to the eastern section of the state, where he has been living since his trouble

in Columbus ended by his dismissal or rather resignation from the office of the clerk of the supreme court of the state. He returned to his old county

where he was engaged in abstracting

and also in looking after his fees as former clerk of Belmont county.

About one week ago following a card game with a couple of his friends,

one of them the next morning at the hotel made the accusation that one of his companions had robbed him of his pocketbook. This charge brought on a fight in which Emerson took a part, as did the hotel proprietor. It is charged that the latter was assaulted by Emerson and badly beaten

up. Emerson was arrested, stood trial and was then committed to the county jail after being bound over to the next term of court. His bond was fixed at $1,000, which he has been unable to furnish.

Another indictment is still hanging over him in Franklin county, which is expected to be brought to trial some time this fall.

dustry by means of a protective tariff which gives to those interested in it a monopoly, if you are willing to make the public pay the cost of
it. But such industries are burdens and nuisances. Whenever a tariff schedule gives rise to a monopoly it should be reduced or repealed, because it is an outrage
upon consumers.

Among the "good trusts" may be reckoned such as come up handsomely in the Presidential elections. By all accounts, the Standard Oil company was rather remiss in this respect in the last Presidential campaign.

With all other enemies in hand, including John D. Rockefeller and E.
H. Harriman, our versatile president has found time to resume his controversy with the "nature fakirs." By these he means such people as fail to agree with him in regard to the natural history of mountain lions and such "varmints."

More money is needed for the Panama Canal, and Congress will be asked to appropriate $8,000,000 in the urgent deficiency bill. It comes high, but we must have it.

United States Judge Jones of Alabama, an appointee of President Roosevelt, has issued a blanket injunction restraining the going into effect of the state law for the reduction of passenger rates to 2-1-2 cents. Judge Jones was a railroad attorney before President Roosevelt appointed him.

From his speech we should judge
Secretary Taft to be a very poor understudy of the President.

Leading Republicans now declare that the Sherman anti-trust law is a failure, because it penalizes agreements in restraint of trade. They don't think such agreements wrong
and President Roosevelt, it is said,
will recommend the law be amended
so that "good trusts" will be legal.

With Wall street in a panic and other signs of Republican trust prosperity failing, perhaps some voters who have been blinded to the real cause of the increased cost of living will want the tariff revised that protects the trusts.

WHAT IS DOING IN BUCKEYEDOM

IMPORTANT OHIO HAPPENINGS
TERSELY TOLD IN SHORT DISPATCHES.

Young Girl Mistreated—Went to Sleep on Ties—Would Succeed
McElroy.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—Was John Pro-want, who was found with a bullet hole in his head and with his body weighed to the bottom of the Aug-laize river, slain by a gang of fire-bugs that has operated extensively in Putnam county for several years?
This is the latest theory in the baffling murder case and officials from the fire marshal's office and county sheriff are confident sensational arrests will be made. The dead man is said to have possessed knowledge of the firebugs which would have resulted in convictions.

Young Girl Mistreated.
Sandusky, O., Aug. 27.—A strange
story was told the police by Mabel Kirk, 11, who was found at a local pleasure resort. The child says a strange woman called at her home, Indianapolis, Ind., last Thursday, and told her to dress immediately, as her father, William Kirk, wanted her to accompany him to Sandusky. The girl says the woman bought her a ticket
and placed her on a train, saying her father was in the smoking car. Remaining on the train until Sandusky
was reached without seeing her father,
the girl proceeded to the resort, where she says she slept under the board walk along the beach three nights, and during that time had but an apple and a sandwich to eat. Her father has been notified.

Went to Sleep on the Ties.
Wellston, O., Aug. 27.—Three coal miners, Earl Hollinghead, 19, Grant Wade, 17, and Charles Mollet, 21, started down the tracks and after awhile
sat down on the ties and went to sleep.
Just when a passenger train came along, a man walking in the tracks discovered them and pulled Holling-head out of danger. Mollet could not be reached, however, and had both legs cut off, dying within a few hours.
Wade fell between the tracks in such a manner that the cars passed over him without causing any injury. Mollet has been married a month. The men are said to have been intoxicated.

Would Succeed McElroy.
Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—There are three Ohio candidates for the position of postmaster of the lower house of congress, to succeed to the vacancy caused by the death of Joseph C. Mc-Elroy of Delaware, O., who held the office for a great many years. The rival candidates are all hustling for the support of the Ohio delegation and congressmen are besieged with requests for pledges. The three candidates to date are former Congressman Charles Q. Hildebrand of Wilmington,
"Deacon" John D. Griffith of Delaware
and A. D. Alderman of Marietta.

Fatal Freight Wreck.
Portsmouth, O., Aug. 27.—Conductor Robert Gilmore of this city and Engineer J. C. Purdy of Sardinia, O., were killed outright, and six or more trainmen seriously injured in a head-end collision between two Norfolk &
Western freight trains, near Rarden.
Purdy's body is still in the wreckage. A relief train bearing physicians and medical supplies was rushed to the scene from here. Among the injured are: Engineers Cliff Smith and William Nichols, and Fireman C. Workman, all of this city.

Drug Caused Two Deaths.
Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—State Food Commissioner Dunlap received from Canton a sample of the chloroform which it is believed because of its impurity caused the death of two people to whom it was administered
there for the purpose of producing anesthesia, to be analyzed. C. M.
Shafer, a deputy inspector, secured
the sample at Canton. Three physicians in Canton are especially interested in the result of the examination.

Coroner Investigating.
Ottawa, O., Aug. 27.—Coroner Tru-per is conducting an investigation into the death of John Prowant whose body was taken from the Auglaize river, near Dupont. A justice of the peace at Dupont held an inquest and returned a verdict of murder at the hands of some person unknown. It is the theory now that the young man was murdered by a robber, as his parents say that when he left for Cascade he had some $200 with him.

Eight-Hour Day and Increase.
Cincinnati, O., Aug. 27.—A demand for an eight-hour day and a 20 per cent increase in wages was decided on by the metal polishers, buffers, platers,
brass molders and brass and silver
workers at their national convention.
The union is said to have a membership of 22,000. The executive committee of the union will determine the date upon which the demands will be presented to the employers.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27.—John T.
Lyman former member of the state legislature and prominent throughout the state, was struck by lightning and killed while covering a haystack at his home at Farmingdale during a storm this morning.

You can't exactly blame the summer girl for getting spoozy when an arm of the sea frequently encircles a waste of sand.

CO. FAIR BOARD

Leases Room in Lansing Block—Directors Have Been Meeting in Court House.

The board of directors of the Licking County Agricultural Society have secured a lease on room 17 in the Lansing block and hereafter will occupy that room.

For some time they have felt the need of a place where they could have exclusive control. This year above all others the need has been emphasized. They are preparing for the largest and most attractive program in the history of the fair. It will be necessary as the time of the fair approaches to hold daily meetings to finish letting contracts and wrestle with the multitude of problems which will arise as the fair approaches.

Hitherto they have occupied the northwest basement room of the court house building.

GUS SEYMOUR IS McCUNE'S MANAGER

Former Newark Man Will Do His Best to Nominate Edw. McCune
for Mayor of Columbus.

The mayorality campaign in Columbus is now on in full blast. Each of the four candidates is out working with might and main. The McCune, Axline and Bond offices are veritable beehives of industry. Attorney Augustus T. Seymour formerly of Newark, has just become the campaign manager for Edward McCune and will devote himself to that effort until after the primary election. He will have with him an advisory committee of one hundred.

The Democratic committee will be called together before the end of the present week, and a date fixed for the Democratic primary or convention. It is probable that if a convention is held the date for the primary to select delegates will likely be September 27. The convention would be the following day. If a straight party primary is held it will likely be held on September 28.

HAYNES WILL BUILD AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Mr. James T. Haynes, the agent for the Mulin Boat company, has leased
a strip of ground 50 feet along in the rear of the club house of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club and will erect a building to be occupied as a storage
and display room for his line of motor boats and launches. He will have supply rooms. Upstairs rooms will be furnished where members of the club
or their guests can obtain lodging.

AN ALL 'ROUND MAN.

New York, Aug. 26.—J. M. Ayer of J. M. Ayer & Co., cotton brokers, has the reputation among his fellow brokers of being the most versatile man on the floor.

Mr. Ayer before entering his present line of activity practised dentistry for many years. He also devoted much of his time to painting and sketching

and is an artist of no little ability.
He often amuses a friend with whom he happens to be having luncheon by presenting to him a caricature of himself which he has hastily sketched on the back of the menu.

He is an artistic golfer and a good whist player. He frequently does a clog dance to the delight of his many friends on the 'Change.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. MARTHA STICKEL.

Mrs. Martha Stickel, daughter of Mr. James R. Kington, formerly of Newark, died on Sunday at the home of her father, 827 Wilson street, Columbus, after an illness of some time. The deceased was a graduate of the Newark High school, and has many friends in Newark who will regret the service of her death. The funeral services were held at the home of her father Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the interment was made in Green Lawn cemetery. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Joseph Booth of this city.

MRS. LIDA BASH HALL.

Sister Lida Bash Hall, daughter of John and Eliza Bash, was born in Licking county, near Homer, April 25,
1868, and died August 19, 1907, aged 39 years, 3 months 24 days.

As a child she was kind, obedient and always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

As a woman, she saw early the need of providing for the welfare of her future and on August 21st, 1890, at the age of 22, she gave her heart to God
under the ministry of Rev. Irish, united with the Methodist church at Wesley's Chapel and has since remained a faithful member.

On March 14th, 1906, she was united in marriage to Mr. Marion N. Hall, which union has been one of perfect happiness though the providence of God has only lasted a short year and one-half.

Before her illness she was heard to say in her thoughts and love for the loved ones "she dreaded leaving the loved ones and her husband, but she feared not to die" and later as she was about to be ill her mother patting her on the shoulder remarked: "Lida
you must look to Jesus"—upon which she replied: "Mother, I have been looking to Jesus all along. And so trusting she entered the valley of the shadow of death and in the early morning hours of the 19th inst. she returned bringing a precious little babe. But God immediately called it to himself and after a few brief days
with the loved ones on the afternoon of the 19th the mother, too, was called to join the little darling waiting there
the coming of mother.

She leaves to mourn her departure
in deep sorrow, a husband, mother, 3
sisters, 2 brothers and a host of relatives and friends.

She is gone from our midst and keenly will be felt the loss, but your loss is her gain.

She is not thought but glorified!
O, beauties changed for those who weep.

Mourning the loss of the dear one
departed.

Fallen asleep!
Hushed into silence, never more to comfort the loved ones again;

Gone like the sunshine of another country beyond our kin.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their sympathy shown during the illness and death of our dear wife and daughter, and for the beautiful floral tribute; also, the Rev. H. N. Miller for his words of comfort and choir for the music.

May you long be spared the grief
that is ours.
Mr. Herbert Frenier, Mr. and Mrs.
George Koman.

CHARGES FOR OBITUARIES AND CARDS OF THANKS.

Readers will kindly take notice that there is a charge of five cents a line (six words to the line) for all obituaries exceeding 15 lines, (90 words). We print all obituaries less than 15 lines in length free of charge. Cards of thanks we charge five cents a line (six words to the line). The minimum charge of cards of thanks is 25 cents.

Real Fake.
Pearl—Yes, when they were engaged
he told her he had the sweetest nature
in the world, but after their marriage
she found out he had a nature like a bear.

Ruby—Gracious! He must be one of these "nature fakirs" you hear so much about.—Chicago News.

His Idea.

"Rastus, you are southern bred, eh?"
"Yessah."
"Then what is your idea of a perfect
gentleman?"
"A puffed gen'leman, suh, doesn't ray nuffin else to de waiter 'sides his ohdah, suh, 'ceppin' 'Yo' brack scoundrel, keep de change.'"

Not Practical.
"Why are you so dissatisfied with that young man?"
"He spends too much time committing to memory the advice of rich men on how to succeed in life instead of getting out and hustling for business."

Irish Members Leave the Commons.

Condemn the Government.

London, Aug. 27.—The chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell, announced in the House of Commons that the government was prepared to accept some, but not all, of the amendments of the House of Lords to the Irish evicted tenants bill, whereupon John E. Redmond, the chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, said he declined to take any further part in the discussion of the measure. Mr. Redmond accused the government of failure to carry out its promise to the Irish people and said the bill as it now stands provided for the compulsory removal of tenants who had taken from evicted persons and therefore was a victory for the landlords. It was evident, continued Mr. Redmond, that the Irish must close their ranks and recommence a strong, menacing agitation as the only means of securing a proper land legislation. The Irish nationalists then left the house in a body.

GLASS FACTORY

To Be Located at Butler by J. M. Ickes, Who Was Formerly Postmaster of Newark.

Butler has succeeded in interesting J. M. Ickes of Columbus, former Newark postmaster, who was instrumental in locating three factories in Mt. Vernon, and who later organized and built one of the most modern and successful glass factories in the country at Columbus. He has spent several days this week going over the entire field at Butler and has so far progressed that he is now ready to make a proposition to the citizens of Butler for their acceptance or rejection.

His company proposes to erect and complete a milk bottle plant in the village and will put a forfeit with the bank that the company carry out its part of the proposition.

It is proposed to call a mass meeting of the citizens of Butler on Tuesday evening when the proposition in full will be submitted to the meeting for its action.

It is Butler's chance to get a new industry now, and the best of it is, on far more reasonable terms, and in a more business-like manner besides. The factory will start with a hundred people and increase to double that number the second year.

Construction will begin at once and be completed by December 1, ready for operation.

Mr. Ickes will be in Butler Tuesday evening and tell all about the proposition.—Mansfield Shield.

ASPHALT MEN
DRAW BIG FINE

New York and Bermudez Company
Soaked In Venezuela.

MAY REACH FIFTEEN MILLION

Corporation Charged With Complicity In the Matos Revolution, the Venezuelan Government Obtaining Its Most Important Testimony From American Witnesses.

Caracas, Venezuela, Aug. 27.—Judgment has been rendered against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company for alleged complicity in the Matos revolution, the corporation being condemned not only to pay $5,000,000 damages, the calculated cost to the government of subduing the revolution, but was to pay other sums to be fixed by a commission of experts and which may very likely amount to $10,000,000 more. The present judgment is appealable to the supreme court and from there to the court of cassation. The court has found for the state for the following alleged injuries: The discredit which because of war Venezuela might have suffered in the conception of other nations; the loss of Venezuelan citizens withdrawn from commercial pursuits, agriculture, industries etc; the necessity for the creation of a war tax; decrease in customs and revenues of the state.

It was from American witnesses and from evidence taken before American judges in the United States courts that the Venezuelan government obtained its most important proof of the part alleged to have been played by the asphalt company in the Matos revolution, the furnishing of the money with which to start the fight.

Commenting upon the court's decision in the New York and Bermudez company's case and on the present attitude of the state in supporting the claim of the same company, a signed article published in the government newspaper "El Constitucional" says: "It now remains to be seen if the state department will again convert itself into the protector, defender and tutor of adventurers who have confessed their guilt and who are legitimately chastised by the legislature of all the civilized nations, including the United States, which abound in sentences perfectly analogous to that now suffered by the guilty company in the Venezuelan court.

PLANT QUIZZED

At the Hearing of the North Carolina Railway Rate Case.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The hearing of the North Carolina case before Master in Chancery Walker Montgomery was resumed at the Southern railway offices, and Comptroller J. H. Plant of the Southern railway occupied the witness stand. Mr. Plant stated that the total cost of operating intrastate passenger traffic for the year ended June 30, 1906, was $2,426,415, and the total earnings in North Carolina were $1,971,035 a net loss of about $455,000. He testified that if the proposed rates were put into effect on the basis of the business of 1906, the total net returns from intrastate business in that state would amount to only $28,007, not allowing anything for the payment of interest or dividends.

IN A HOTEL

A Married Man Kills His Paramour and Himself.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Charles A. Andrews, former restaurant owner at Elkhart, Ind., shot and killed his wife Ethel Blaine of Florida, in a room at the Saratoga hotel, and then mortally wounded himself with the same revolver. He died while being taken to a hospital. Andrews and his companion had registered at the hotel last Saturday as Charles Andrews and wife, South Bend, Ind., but after the tragedy the police learned from letters in the man's baggage that the woman was one with whom he had become infatuated months ago, and because of her had left his wife and son and had traveled about the country with her.

Assault on Yellow Jack.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Despairing of the ability of the Cuban municipalities to keep the cities clean and free from yellow fever, the central government has at last formally undertaken that task. From this time on the work of disinfection and the extermination of the yellow fever mosquito will proceed under the direction of officers appointed by Governor Magoon. In the opinion of Governor Magoon, as set out in a cablegram received at the war department, the yellow fever will be eradicated within six weeks.

Schooner Scorching.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 27.—The five-masted schooner Jane Palmer of Boston, Captain Bowen, caught fire from a blaze which started on the dock of Massachusetts Wharf Coal company, East Boston, alongside of which she was tied, and was badly damaged. The entire after portion of her deck was ablaze at one time and a large quantity of coal in the hold caught fire. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

New York, Aug. 27.—Charles Hanna, son of Dan Hanna, who, when accompanied by nine guests drove his huge touring car into a butcher's cart on the road from Seabright to Asbury Park, was sufficiently recovered from his injuries to start for Ohio.

Young Folks

THROWING THE MINIE DART.

An Amusing Toy That Any Handy Boy Can Make Himself.

Boys will find the minie dart a most amusing toy. Any boy can make one, and this is how it is done: Whittle a pine stick perfectly straight and round, a little larger in diameter than a lead pencil. The stick should be two feet long. With a small saw cut in one end a slit about five inches deep. Into this slit insert a piece of cardboard, first cutting it the shape of Fig. 1. Tack it in place with two or three tiny tacks. When this is done, balance the dart on your knife blade to find the center of gravity, and at the point of balance cut a notch slanting in the direction of the point away from the card end. The success of the toy depends on balancing correctly.

A piece of some springy wood is used for the whip. Cut this about three feet long and the diameter of a whip handle, tapering toward the end. To the tapering end of this stick fasten a stout string about two feet long, and at the other end of the string tie a knot. To shoot the dart hold it with the left hand near to the tail or paper end, holding the whip in the right hand, as you see the boy in the picture doing. Throw the string over the dart and draw it through the notch until it catches on the knot. Then, with a rapid upward motion, switch the whip, letting go the dart at the same time. The dart will leave the string and soar high into the air. Try it. It is lots of fun.

THE ODD LITTLE BAT.

Facts Concerning This Interesting Winged Animal.

"A bird?" does some little voice say? No, not a bird, but more nearly a winged mouse in looks. If mamma lets you stay out of doors when the evening comes on, you may see flying swiftly around the house something you will think is a bird. But if you could catch it you would find it a bat. Sometimes bats fly in at the doors or windows, and go sailing around the room.

You will never see one in the daytime. They sleep all day and nearly all night, too, besides sleeping all winter. They go out only in the dusk of summer evenings after moths and insects, which are their food. And that is why they fly about here and there so swiftly. They fly with their mouths open so as to catch the insects as they fly.

The bats live in dark holes in roofs and walls of buildings and in fences. Their wings are then all folded up, and they hang by their claws or the hooks on their wings.

Perhaps you are afraid of bats and scream when one flies near you. But the common bats of our country are very harmless. They might bite a little if hurt, and who blames them for that?

There are many kinds of bats in other countries, some very large and ugly, that we might well be afraid of. Some have heads like foxes and dogs; all are very curiously made.—Philadelphia Record.

The Whippoorwill. Probably few boys and girls have ever seen the little night bird called whippoorwill. That's a queer name for a bird, isn't it? It is called that because its note sounds like the word. One is rarely seen in the daytime, for it seldom appears until after the sun has gone down to its roosts, when it skims along the surface of the ground, seeking moths and other soft bodied insects, of which it is very fond. Sometimes it appears also between daybreak and sunrise, and its low notes are heard then as in the evening. Strange to say, it does not build a nest, but lays its eggs, generally two, of a greenish white spotted with blue and light brown, in a sort of baphazard fashion, on fallen leaves. One peculiarity of the bird is the formation of its mouth, which shows how nature adapts living things to their necessities and surroundings. The mouth is wide and gaping and has stiff bristles at the base of the bill to keep insects from escaping after they are caught.

The Basket Fish.

There's a queer looking animal on the sea floor of the Pacific ocean called the basket fish, because it looks like a basket or coarse network upside down. Little fishes come swimming into the holes and the animal's long arms that make the side of the basket grab the little fishes and draw them up into the greedy stomach.

Counting the Stars.

I tried so hard to count the stars And got as far as three. When many of us sleep peeped And, smiling, basked at me.

So I began it over again And got as far as nine. When all at once I seemed to see A thousand others shine.

Then came so many in the sky I would not try again. For all the counting that I know Is only up to ten.

SLITS THROAT
ON THE BEACH

Aged Episcopal Minister a Suicide
In California.

DISCIPLE OF DOCTOR OSLER

Despondency Because of Old Age and Illness Given as the Cause For the Rash Deed—Friend of Bishop Potter and Well Known in England and the United States.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—Rev. Edward H. Jewett, 80, for 15 years professor of pastoral theology in the General Theological seminary of New York, close friend of Bishop Potter and Bishop Hoffman, and one of the most popular and well-known ministers in America, committed suicide on Manhattan Beach, 15 miles from this city, by slitting his throat from ear to ear with a razor.

Despondency because of old age, superinduced by chronic melancholy, and years of suffering from rheumatism, are given as the causes for the act by the deceased's family. The tragedy occurred in full view of thousands of pleasureseers.

"I can not understand why my father-in-law should have taken this awful method of ending his life," said Rev. Mr. Porter. "He is known throughout England and the United States as one of the prominent Episcopal rectors. He has seven sons and daughters, who are prominent and wealthy leaders of society in New York. Rev. Jewett was greatly impressed with the Dr. Osler theory. Many times he has said in pathetic tones to me: 'I think that some way out of an unbearable existence should be shown old people who have outlived their usefulness in this world. I think it should be provided that old men should be hit on the head with a club and mercifully killed.'"

Mr. Jewett disappeared suddenly at lunch time from the home of his son-in-law, the Rev. Angus Porter, rector of the Episcopal church at Redlands, Cal., who has been living at Manhattan Beach since Aug. 1. The aged churchman walked swiftly away one block and sat down on a pile of sand. Taking a razor from his pocket Dr. Jewett deliberately slashed back and forth across his throat repeatedly until he had cut two holes on either side of his chin as large as a dollar and sliced the jugular vein in three places.

PLANS OUTLINED

For the Projected Cruise of Great Battleship Fleet.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Acting Secretary Newberry returned to Washington, bringing official word of the conclusions reached at the Oyster Bay conference relative to the projected cruise of the great battleship fleet from the eastern to the western coast of the United States by way of the Straits of Magellan. It was found expedient to leave to Rear Admiral Evans and his staff the arrangement of the details of the itinerary of the voyage. Everything will be in readiness for the fleet to sail on Dec. 1, and the date of departure will be between Dec. 1 and 15. As arranged, the itinerary provides for 10 knots an hour, which is regarded as the most economical speed for the fleet. This will permit the colliers to accompany the fleet for part of the voyage on the Atlantic side.

CASTRO'S REPLY

Now Before the State Department. The Next Step.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Following Venezuela's third rejection of the American proposition to submit to arbitration the five American claims against that government, it is now the duty of the state department to determine what shall be done to secure the adjustment of these claims. The department's advisers show that the third answer of President Castro is a mere statement that the proposal already has been made the subject of a formal reply. It is difficult for the American government to use measures against Venezuela that would probably be regarded by other creditor nations as an interference with the program already arranged for the settlement of their claims.

To Select Arbitrator.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 27.—The striking telegraphers of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Jamestown exposition have appointed F. M. Kilpatrick, representing the Western Union men, and E. M. Harvey, representing the Postal men, as electors to participate in the election of one representative from Virginia, the Carolinas and parts of West Virginia and Tennessee, to appear for the strikers at New York in the event of a "compromise arbitration." This action followed instructions from President Small.

Work of the Floods.

Tokyo, Aug. 27.—The heavy floods in central Japan have caused damage to private property estimated at several million yen, and in addition the railroads are great sufferers. There are over 20 serious washouts on the Tokaido Central railroad.

Brooded Over His Disgrace.

Philipsburg, N. J., Aug. 27.—Brooding over his disgrace for having been arrested on a serious charge, Charles Howey, 46, a prominent farm living near here, committed suicide by shooting. Last week Howey was arrested and confessed to having attacked two small children in his wagon. He was sent to jail, but on Saturday he was furnished and he was released.

Lancaster, Ohio, Aug. 27.—M. Albert Schweitzer, the young gentleman of German extraction and of brunette complexion, was in the game at Eagle park here yesterday with both hands and both feet. He won the game with his trusty willow and prevented its loss with his quick whop. In fact Laddy Little can thank Al Schweitzer and his lucky stars that he got away with the contest on the right side of the ledger.

Three hits in one inning, the eighth, failed to net the Lanks under Captain-Manager George Fox, any semblance of Akron. It was in this frame that M. Schweitzer returned Heller's hit to Pearce in time to catch Pitcher Walter Justus as he was making tracks for the rubber as last as his short little legs could carry him.

It was in the fourth that Al Schweitzer smashed out a single after Wratten had been given a life on Brown's error. Newark's crack shortstop capered to third and there he rested long enough to get his wind and have M. Schweitzer start for second. The "cracker" worked admirably and Vet Fox pegged to Humphreys. Hump might have caught Schweitzer but he didn't. He waited a mite too long to catch Wratten at the plate and when he did throw he had his eye on a fleecy white cloud behind the grandstand and the ball almost went over the shed.

Of course Wratten went home. Incidentally it might be mentioned that Schweitzer took third on the same play.

Then our friend, Mr. Murray, who is now captain of the bunch, ran up the squeeze signal. He tried energetically to work it but all there was on the score sheet for Sandy was a "strike out" credit.

It was in the eighth that the stock of the Molders went down like the elevator with the broken rope. Yet Fox, the antiquated catcher of the Lanks, was an easy out from Murray to Gygil. Then Justus came forward with a neat single. Eichberger followed suit and his smash dropped back of second. Walter J. failed to get further than second, as the hit was short. Then Freddie Heller smashed one to deep center and Walter Justus started for home. Al Schweitzer was there when it hit the ground and he was whipped to Pearce in time to stop the scoring Calhoun, who was playing right field in place of Elston, was an easy proposition from Wratten to Gygil and all danger of scoring was over.

This man Calhoun, by the way, seems more like a huge joke every day. He passed five and hit two batsmen but he was effective with the bases occupied. He has long had the title of being the hard luck pitcher of the Lancaster team. He has pitched a number of games against Newark. Three out of four games pitched against Newark were lost on account of errors.

SCOUT BERRYHILL OUT ON HUNT FOR MORE PLAYERS

Will Sign All Promising Material in Sight for Next Year's Team.

Bob Berryhill left the Molders at Lancaster last night and came to Newark. After a short conference with the club officials Bob tucked away a bunch of blank contracts and started for the bushes. Bob will look over some of the league teams out in Indiana and any loose material that looks good will be gobbled up.

Foxy Bob has shown the Newark fans that he knows a ball player. He gave the Newark club one of the best and most promising youngsters in the minor leagues and not only that but he has brought the city of Newark more into prominence than it ever was before. The Newark officials have a taste of a good team and they want to put a similar team into the race next year.

This talk of redistricting doesn't need to worry the Newark fans a bit. If it comes to pass, Newark will be in the swim. It's too good a baseball town to be left out in the cold and the other magnates won't listen to it.

CORRECT STANDING FROM PRES. MORTON

The Advocate is printing today the correct official standing of the league teams. The table shows how many games each team has won and lost to the opposing team. President Morton prepared and sent out the table and his copy included games played Sunday. With alterations which were made necessary by Monday's games, the table is given for the benefit of the local fans.

Newark	9	10	8	12	69	63
Youngstown	9	10	8	12	64	64
Akron	8	10	9	10	62	59
Lancaster	5	7	8	9	55	52
N. Castle	5	7	4	9	52	49
Mansfield	5	6	8	4	51	42
Marion	3	3	8	4	51	42
Sharon	5	4	2	5	41	37
Lost	30	42	43	50	54	64

This standing includes games played August 26th.

HOW TO FIGURE CLUBS STANDING

A number of people have asked how to figure the baseball percentage as printed in the newspapers. Add the number of games won and the number lost. Multiply the number of games won by 100. Divide this result by the sum of the number of games won and lost, the result will be the per cent or standing of the team. Problem—Take the Newark percentage in today's paper. Newark has won 69 games and lost 40. Add 69 and 40, total 109 games. Take the number of games won, which is 69, and multiply by 100, which equals 6900. Divide this result, 6900, by the number of games played, which is 109. This quotient is the per cent or standing, namely .633.

ELSTON GIVES LANKS THE DOUBLE CROSS

Big Curt Elston and Frank Locke, both of the Lanks, took a little vacation Sunday and went down into the country south of Lancaster to spend a few hours. Locke returned, but Curt Elston didn't, and for this reason the scribes of Lanktown are up in arms over Curt's actions. Elston's successor in right was Calhoun, and his sticking is punk. Several times yesterday it was up to him to win the game for the Lanks, but he couldn't find the hit.

THE FOOT BALL OUTLOOK IN OHIO FOR YEAR 1907

By HARRY W. WILSON.
(Author of Wilson Football Guide.)

Now that the football season is drawing near enthusiasts of the gridiron game will soon begin to watch the chase of the pigskin and to voice their choice for the state supremacy. Never in the history of football in Ohio has there been such promising material as this season and the fight for the championship should be a glorious one. With the adoption, last year, of the rule barring Freshmen from taking part in inter-collegiate football in Ohio it was feared by enthusiasts of the game that football would be practically demoralized, but far from it. This season will show the magnificent warriors who last season made good in the Freshmen ranks, and the experience gained will be of great value to every eleven in the "Big Six."

The changes appearing in the rules for the coming season are very slight and will scarcely be noticed. The most pronounced change is the regulation in regard to the penalty on an unsuccessful forward pass. The 1906 rule on the unsuccessful forward pass was so severe that few teams would take a chance at the play because of the penalty of losing the ball. As the rules committee proposed that this rule should serve to make the game more open, and as it failed to carry out its purpose, the committee has adopted that instead of loss of ball a penalty of 15 yards be exacted from the offending side on the first and second downs. This change will do much toward putting in play a greater use of the forward pass, and thus the game will be more spectacular this fall than it was in 1906.

The time of halves have been restored to 35 minutes, but this change will have little effect as it is the custom for the captains to agree on the time of the halves, which seldom are played the limit.

A rule has also been inserted for this fall whereby a team will have a greater opportunity to make the required ten yards. A lineman may carry the ball as long as he does not leave his position until the ball is put in play.

A new official will also be seen in the game this fall in the capacity of "field judge." His work will be about the same as the umpire except that his position will be behind the defending team and in a position where he can see to the conduct of the contesting team. A few other minor changes appear this fall, making clearer the rule regarding a fair catch, and that of changing the position of the defensive team on a kickoff, so that no member of the opposing team will be within ten yards of the man kicking the ball.

Because of the fact that Ohio State carried off the championship honors last fall, that team will probably be picked as the favorite this season. With the exception of a few players of last season's team, Ohio State will be fortunate in having several of her best men return for this season and will have a squad as good, if not superior to that of 1906. Coach Hershman will again take up the work of putting the team in the field and it goes without saying that his work will show in the championship race.

At Wooster, that famous coach, Ernie Steele, will again take up the reins and attempt to whip the black and old gold into championship form. What he can do with a team of football players can best be seen when

LANCASTER HERE WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY SURE

After the game at Lancaster this afternoon, the Molders and Lanks will board the train and come to Newark for a pair of games. These will be played Wednesday and Thursday. At the same time Akron and Youngstown are clashing and these games will figure more prominently in the league standing than any other games yet to play this season. A good crowd should see these games.

MELANGE OF SPORT.

Schweitzer did it.
The German's arm is quick and accurate.
Smitty didn't have a chance.
Justus is certainly the hard luck man. We could feel sorry if it was not Newark profiting by his hard luck.

Sam Haval was in the game at Youngstown yesterday again. His error and no hits was evidence of this fact.
What's the matter with Elston and Lancaster? He wasn't on hand yesterday when he was worst needed.
As far as getting satisfactory bulletins are concerned, Lancaster might as well be in China. It couldn't be worse.

Bob Berryhill was in town Monday night and said the crowd numbered in even five hundred.
Twenty-five of this number came from Newark. Several autos took the Newark people to the scene of the fracas.
Heinie Berger, the old Columbus star, pitched his first full game in the American league yesterday, when Boston scored five runs in the first two frames. After that Berger was invincible. It was the old cry that he wasn't warmed up enough. Heinie needs lots of work before the game.
Danny Davis smashed out three "two-base hits in the game with Akron yesterday.

A player today and an umpire tomorrow. Bill Bannon was released by Manager Sam Wright that he might be re-appointed as umpire by Morton. Wonder if Youngstown figures, that this will be profitable for them?
Sharon is coming to be the star extra inning team of the league. They will soon equal Newark in this regard.

King, the young catcher with East's aggregation, got a single a double and a triple out of four chances. He is hitting better.
It is to be hoped that Bob Berryhill will find some more Ashers, Pearce and Smiths in the brush out in Indiana. We don't care for any more Jimmy Walls or Jimmy Pierces.
Gomer Evans, a Youngstown city league star, made good in his initial game in fast company Sunday. The scribes of Champtown blame his defeat to poor coaching by Ostieck and poor base running.

L. J. Ritchie while in Newark a few days ago, said the Akron team would have a walk-away if there was good feeling on the team and better base running.

The Youngstown Telegram says: "Sam Haval looks nifty on third. At the plate Sam looks best though for he waits' em out like Cap. Starr."
The Newark players took in the baseball lawn fete at Eagle park Monday night. It was a church fair scheme to replenish the Lanks exchequer which is nearly paralyzed.

W. E. Will Kommer, one-time star of the Akron team, visited old friends at Akron. He is working in a steel mill at Pittsburgh. He says he hasn't touched a ball since leaving Akron a year ago.

Harry Neilly of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, formerly of the Youngstown Vindicator, says the O. P. pennant race is between Youngstown and Newark. He hopes it that Akron's in and out style of ball will eliminate them as a factor.

"Bobby" Whisner, the star third-sacker, who for the past month has been playing with Sharon in the O. P. league, has decided not to return to the league this season and will finish with Val Loefer's Oakwoods, says the Columbus Star Journal.

Pitcher Mock, traded by Sharon to Youngstown for Third Baseman Hilley, reported at Youngstown last night. He is badly needed by the Youngstown team, whose staff of pitchers is sadly depleted.

Ashland Defeats Mansfield.
Ashland, O., Aug. 27.—Ashland had no trouble in defeating Mansfield, of the O. and P. league, here yesterday afternoon by the score of 10 to 1. The game was an interesting one, for the locals and a large crowd watched the contest.

SECOND DAY OF INSTITUTE OF CO. TEACHERS

The Institute opened on Tuesday with increased promise for a successful week. The attendance is unusually good, two hundred and fifteen names having been registered on the first day, and the instructors are proving all that was promised of them. Much of the work outlined by the program is of the practical character, especially valuable to the teacher, in his everyday experience. Particularly pleasing is the marked feeling of good fellowship which pervades every meeting.

Tuesday morning's session was marked to begin at nine o'clock, but was preceded by a half hour's spirited "Round Table" work, conducted by Mr. Powell. An unexpectedly large attendance proved that this phase of the work closely touches the teachers' real need. "Regularly of Attendance," "Tardiness," "Note-writing," were among the subjects introduced for thorough discussion.

The nine o'clock session was opened with music, Miss Gray of Jacksonville, presiding at the piano. The devotional lesson was conducted by Mr. Powell.

Mr. Humphrey had on Monday announced "Grammar" as the general theme for his week's work, and on this subject continued on Tuesday, after distributing among his audience printed outlines for use in his morning lecture, dealing with the syntax of such common puzzlers as "lie," "sit," "set," "rise," "raise." A "spiral drill" in the use of these verbs, and their principal parts reaffirmed the fact that these often-repeated words may be easily abused, even by those to whom theoretically correct grammar is an every-day matter. Such an exercise proves itself not only of practical benefit, but also a valuable clearing house for ideas grammatically hazy. The personal method of conducting the "recitation" kept every member of the audience alive with interest until the twenty-eight sentences involving the various uses of the words had been disposed of.

After the intermission, following Mr. Humphrey's address, Mr. E. T. Osborn, of the executive committee, appointed the various committees arranged for the social meeting, changed from Wednesday evening to Tuesday.

Mr. Powell, in the second lecture of the morning, took as his topic, "The School," and as his text: "To thine own self be true. Thou canst not then be false to any man."

In entering upon his subject, the speaker proposed to discuss some phases of school organization and control. There are certain preliminaries, he suggested, which must precede the teacher's actual work: certain scholastic attainments, not the least of which is the obtaining of the certificate, thus putting the teachers' work on a legal basis.

After the certificate, the school must be obtained, and much depends upon the manner of the application. Write your application neatly and carefully, and use the fewest words possible; there is sure to be on every city or district board some business man whom this will impress.

Another preliminary is to become acquainted with your school before you start in. Canvass the situation thoroughly. If you know what kind of boys and girls you have, and what kind of work more intelligently.

Some elements of school control should be closely noted.

First. Prudence. A very important element that in dealing with boys and girls you should have regard for their own feelings. The best teacher has a plan, but she is not the one who makes the most of her machinery. Make punishment reasonable, not extreme. Neither be hasty in determining what you are going to do; but when you have decided what to do, do it with energy. Sometimes it is even better that a boy should be forced out of school and into industrial work, rather than that his time should be wasted.

Second. Kindness, love, sympathy, the good of the pupils, is the great object. No scolding; make your pupils happy.

Third. Willpower. An element of governing power is firmness; the pupil must know that the teacher means what he says.

It was a matter of much regret that a necessary shortening of the time allotted to Mr. Powell forced to an abrupt end an address which proved one of the most inspiring so far presented, and whose conclusion would have been heard with much pleasure. The speaker seized the opportunity of his closing sentence to add to his first three suggested virtues the element of cheerfulness, which he urged as invaluable in the school room.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The Monday afternoon session was opened with music, followed by roll-call, two hundred and ten names having been registered up to that time. The Institute work was then continued by Superintendent Powell, who, despite the fact of this being his first appearance in Newark, met with a warm welcome. Mr. Powell in opening, expressed especial pleasure at the "union of church and state" brought about by the meeting place of the Institute—a particularly suitable arrangement, to his way of thinking. He also spoke briefly of the origin of the Teachers' Institute, its methods and aims—dwelling particularly on the too often neglected social side of such gatherings. Another not unprofitable phase of the work is the suggesting and discussing of our difficulties one with another. Mr. Powell announced as his own general topic for the week, "School Administration," his specific subject for the afternoon being "Aims and Results of Public School Training."

The teacher's first business, he began, is to cultivate love of order, and to develop the power of self-government. In this regard the first grade teachers' task is hardest of all. If you want to have your pupils confident, learn to trust them. We will want self-government out in life—a little higher development in that respect would do away with our criminal classes and penal institutions.

Second, the teacher must form habits of study, and teach the child how to learn. This is the most important thing of all, or at any rate the hardest.

Third, teach habits of cleanliness and promptness. Some children can never learn habits of cleanliness if they do not learn them in the public schools. Provide places for cleaning up your pupils until they are fit to sit among their neighbors.

Emphasize promptness, but not to the detriment of regularity in attendance; rather seek to combine the two. Fourth. Cultivate habits of exact thinking, and confidence in knowing. The boy who learns to think clearly and exactly of his problems in arithmetic will be able later to grapple with the great problems of life. If a fact is clear in consciousness, there will be no difficulty of expression. If the child knows that he knows a thing, he is able to use it.

Fifth. Give attention to forming habits in morals and manners. The teachers' morality here is greater than any others, except the parents. The state demands moral citizens, as well as intelligent ones.

Sixth. The teacher is to teach an appreciation of our institutions, and more patriotism. Not only review our country's history, its machinery of government, but teach that the object of all this is that you and I and our pupils may have broader enjoyment of life.

Again, seventh, inculcate a taste for the best in thought in literature. In the public school you have so many opportunities that are neglected. The home. Such reading as the boy often finds for himself, perverts not only his morals, but his English as well. So cultivate in them a love for our poets, and for the best in our literature.

Eighth. Give him a love for knowledge; let him see what knowing things can accomplish, not only in the way of utility, but in the development of ideals. Labor is dignified, and education goes along with it.

Again, impart such information as will make useful, efficient citizens. There is no disgrace in honest labor.

Make patriotic citizens, but at the same time prepare them for the highest enjoyment of life. Attract their attention to the men who have made our country's history what it is. These various aims in education are to make us efficient Americans. We will not only earn our salaries better, we will not only have the reward here, but the better reward hereafter for well-doing.

Mr. Pearson has a reputation for work in Shakespeare unequalled by any other Institute lecturer, and met with a warm welcome on the announcement of his afternoon subject, "King Lear"—one of the plays which many teachers were anxious to rank with the interpretation of "Henry VIII" given by Mr. Pearson last year.

His introduction was an urgent command to read Shakespeare, first, last and always if you want to be the cultured man or woman that a teacher ought to be. When you look into the palace of Shakespeare, you peep more and more, and finally you must open the door and walk right in.

In many respects, "King Lear" is the most dramatic of all Shakespeare's writings. Our central figure is a king, necessarily rich, with three daughters—two of them married, and one unmarried, with two suitors. The old king is wanting to lay down the cares of state, and his kingdom is to be divided among his three daughters. Goneril, Regan, and Cordelia, the first choice going to the daughter who would claim to love the father best. Goneril is the eldest daughter, according to the Greek origin of the name. Sweet the imperious, Cordelia the sweet and loving daughter. Of these three, the one who can voice her love in the most eloquent and glowing terms is to be the favored one. The two husbands and the two suitors are deeply interested in the outcome of the contest. The three speeches bringing the readers interest to white heat form the key-note to the swiftly succeeding action. In a dozen lines, too, the characters of Kent, Burgundy and the King of France unfold in their true light. This is Shakespeare's genius.

The rise of the story to its climax must be read for one self, in order to gain any appreciation of the pathos with which the great master delineates the very dregs of suffering. The masterly interpretation by which Mr. Pearson makes his characters live with them can not be reproduced, nor is either comment or criticism needed. When Mr. Pearson "talks Shakespeare" his one fault is in the "stopping too sudden."

SCHOOL OPENS IN NEWARK ON SEPTEMBER 9TH

PUPILS WILL MEET SEPT 30 TO RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS FOR BOOKS.

City Teachers' Institute Will Begin
Next Tuesday Afternoon at High School Building.

The old bell on the Central school house that has called the school youth of Newark to school for more than fifty years, will again peal out on Monday morning, September 9, calling the pupils of the various schools to their duties once more, although the pupils and teachers will meet at their respective buildings on Tuesday, September 10, when the pupils will be assigned books and necessary supplies, thus doing away with the usual rush on the first day of school. The young people of the city have been enjoying a long vacation, so has Truant Officer Jones, and both will soon again be busy. The September will soon pass and the young people will begin another nine months in their school day careers. Although the children never get through hearing from their elders that school days are the happiest days in their life, this is a hard thing for the boy and girl to believe, who knows how to get the most out of vacation days. The various buildings have been given thorough cleanings and improvements have been made, so that everything will be in readiness for the reception of the students on the opening day. Some slight changes are being made in one of the rooms of the High school, but the changes will all be completed next week.

The City Teachers' Institute will begin next Tuesday afternoon at the High School, Superintendent Van-Cleve of Steubenville, will be one of the lecturers.

The St. Francis de Sales parochial schools will open on Tuesday, September 24.

MAN WITH ASSAULT.

An affidavit was filed before Mayor McCleary Tuesday afternoon charging Isaac Goldstein, a shoemaker, with assault.

The affidavit was filed by Wm. Deedim, a pressman, and Goldstein is charged with assaulting Mr. Deedim's little daughter. According to the story related to the police, Goldstein coaxed the Deedim girl and others of her companions into the shop on Fourth street, and frightened the little girls badly.

He is held without bond, and will be given a hearing soon. The affair caused much indignation among the people in the vicinity of the Deedim home in the south end.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE MODE.

Coiffure Hints—Graceful Wraps For Evening Wear of Fillet Lace.

It is wonderful the difference in the appearance of a woman becoming arrangement of her hair does make. Some women who never ought to wear flowers in their coiffure appear with a rose pinned over a red ear or with other ridiculous selections. Unless the hair is pretty and well arranged a flower calls attention to its unattractiveness.

This summer Dame Fashion demands at least an apology of a wrap, but it must be light and graceful and made of the most elegant materials. One can afford. The modistes are making fillet lace dolmans and small jackets to match the dresses they are turning out for the smart resorts.

Natural colored tussore silk is immensely popular.

TROUBLE EXPECTED

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 22.—As a result of the arrest today at Longford of Jas. P. Farrell, Irish member of parliament and forty of his followers, serious trouble is anticipated in the district and a large force of police and constables has been sent there to keep order. The arrest of the nationalist grows out of the political meetings that Farrell has been holding throughout the district.

Deafness CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MANY OPERATORS GET BIG WAGES DURING STRIKE

NEWARK OFFICES NOT AFFECTED BY WALK OUT OF THE TELEGRAPHERS.

Long Distance Telephone and Special Delivery Mail Service Given Impetus by Strike.

Since the big telegraphic strike commenced several weeks ago, the salaries of the men and women who remained faithful to the companies, and who worked when their services were most needed, have been raised time and again, until some of the operators in the larger cities are making salaries of $75 to $100 a week. The operators in the smaller cities like Newark, failed to come in for the advance, but they are getting a nice vacation out of the strike, as the business has fallen off to a great extent. Where hundreds of messages were sent and received through the local offices a day, the number has now been reduced to dozens, and they spend the biggest part of their time killing time in any way that suggests itself.

The Newark offices of the Western Union and Postal companies are not affected by the strike so far as the working force in the local offices is concerned. There is no commercial telegraphers' union in Newark, and consequently the operators here are still at their posts. The large cities of the country are all affected by the strike, hence the difficulty and delay in sending messages between points widely separated as such messages are relayed through cities affected by the strike. It is estimated that about 17,000 operators are "out".

The telegraphers' strike is increasing the long distance telephone business, and many messages heretofore sent by telegraph are now going forward either by telephone or special delivery mail.

For many years.

It's local testimony and can be investigated.

Amos Frey, shoemaker, at 307 East Main street, and living at 23 Bolen street, Newark, O., says:

"I made a statement in 1896 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and the eight years which have passed have only strengthened my confidence in that remedy. It gives me pleasure in 1904 to confirm what I said in 1896, for my cure was so complete that I have never had any return of the trouble."

The statement made by Mr. Frey in 1896 was as follows: "For several years I was never free from pain—a constant dragging aching in the kidneys. It was dull and dead so that I had to get up and move about if I sat for any length of time, my back would get so tired and ache so hard that it was really agonizing. I took several kidney medicines, but I got no benefit until I happened to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Crayton's drug store. They did all that they promised for they completely removed the miserable pain from my back."

Hutchinson, Kas., Aug. 27.—W. W. Nusbaum of Newark, O., has been visiting his brother's and wife's family at Peabody, Kas., near here. The rumor of his death is unfounded. Both Mr. and Mrs. Nusbaum are well. They left Peabody Sunday night for home.

A short time ago a good flow of gas was struck on the Rex Gill farm near Millersport.

GAS PRICE SOARING.

Coshocton, Aug. 27.—While Dresden, Zanesville and other nearby towns are having their gas rates raised it is refreshing to note that the price of gas in Coshocton this winter will remain the same, 25 cents per thousand feet.

SECOND DRAWS PRIZE FINE IN POLICE COURT

AS HE IS SHORT OF CASH HE MAY SERVE THREE MONTHS IN COUNTY JAIL.

Italian Shoemaker Too Sick to Appear in Court—Other Police Court Cases.

Joe Gundi, an Italian shoemaker working for John Hiser, on South Fourth street, got well organized Monday evening and started out to view the town. He wandered as far as the B. & O. depot, and being of an exploring turn of mind, walked across the tracks to see what was behind the billboard. He found out after he had plunged to the bottom of the gas tank and had been brought back to life on the end of a long rope and could figure out how it happened. He was taken to the police station but was too sick to be brought into police court this morning.

Fred Secord, the young man whose arrest was mentioned in Monday's Advocate, drew the prize fine of the week when he got $25 and costs and thirty days in the county jail for stealing two revolvers. As he will probably be unable to raise the money it will mean that he will have to serve 88 days behind the walls. The guns he stole were valued at $11.50. Secord has no education and can neither read nor write, and blames his repeated falls from the straight and narrow path to whiskey.

J. K. Shoemaker was arrested by Officers Brook and Abbott on the charge of being drunk. Five and costs.

James Armstrong "got pickled" and was wandering around loose when Patrolmen Abbott and Petrey stopped his celebration by placing him in "the jug." He was handed five and costs.

One Mr. Ponsler got drunk, then disorderly and was arrested by Officer Abbott. In police court he said the only disorderly conduct he had been guilty of was letting his "mouth run too fast." The mayor thought that a bad habit so he gave him five and costs.

Wm. Barnes of Franklin tested Newark whiskey and found it too much for him, so he started to sleep it off. Officer Abbott has the habit of showing up at the wrong time for the sleepers, and Barnes was pinched. In police court he explained at length how it happened, but he drew five and costs and the stone pile just the same.

French Ministers Meet.

Paris, Aug. 27.—Premier Clemenceau went to Rambouillet, where he was closeted for two hours with President Fallieres. UNFROCKED PRIEST HELD TO GRAND JURY

Pittsburg, Aug. 27.—With robbery presented as a motive for the crime, Ludwig Szegiel, the unfrocked priest from Chicago, was held for the grand jury on the charge of shooting and killing Stephen and Andrew Starzynski, hotel keepers, in this city, on Aug. 8. Francesco Spro, the alleged housekeeper of the priest, was held as a witness for the state and an accessory after the fact, the latter charge being founded on her persistent refusal to give full information regarding the priest and her apparent desire to shield him.
